

DETERMINING BEST USE FOR ALPACA FIBER

This presentation will cover understanding what you have in your fiber and how best to utilize it for end use. End use may be processing it on your own through mini mills, contributing to fiber coops or fiber pools or developing product for retail sales. We will cover fleece properties of importance in processing, options for various parts of the fleece as well as end product packaging, labeling laws and new product development. The talk will wrap up with a discussion on future possibilities and trends in the textile industry.
