

UNDERSTANDING FIBER PROCESSING

Processing your fleece into roving or yarn is becoming more and more popular for individual farms. Mini mills are popping up everywhere. This seminar will discuss the process your fleece goes thru at a mill to become finished yarn as well as the different possibilities available to you for yarn structure. We will also review what is required from you to get the best product back from the mill. Samples will be displayed to help with the hands on feel of the yarn processed.